

Here and There

The Telephone Company of B.C. has submitted an order for a sending and receiving wireless high power station to be erected near Nagoi in Central Japan. This station is expected to be the largest high power station in the world.

On the other hand, the smaller islands are still holding their own against motor cycle and flivver. A report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows that the number of motor vehicles in 1925 increased their output by 10 percent over 1924. The five Canadian islands are among them "wheelers" are all in Ontario.

A decision was reached at a meeting of the Directors of the Bureau of the Department of Railways, held recently, to undertake the construction of a new bridge across the river at Shimosaki (Moi) Straits at an estimated cost of $10,000,000. This will connect the Main Island of Japan with the Japanese Islands.

Alberta has one of the most wonderful old game birdshot in North America, according to Adelard Müller of Norristown, Pa., game commissioner of the State. He expresses the opinion that it requires a month in the interior of the province, exploring and taking motion pictures, before coming home of some of the trophy birds.

Two brothers, George and Edward Hume, of Maser, Saskatchewan, carried off the Canadian Pacific Railway and Western Province's trophy birdshot in the recent gunning competition conducted by the Extension Department of the University of Saskatchewan at Saskatoon. Their team of all parts of Saskatchewan competed.

Fredrickson, New Brunswick—A moose with antlers spreading 62 inches was shot in the New Brunswick woods by W. W. Proctor of Dubois Ferry, New York, who is a companion of his, F. C. Chenebrough, of New York City, brought down a heavy trophy birdshot of 67 inches, or 57 inches. Mr. Proctor's trophy creates a record for the season.

Vice-Admiral Sir Walter Cowan, K.C.B., of two visiting British cruisers to Philadelphia Navy Yard received a visit from a number of enthusiastic passengers on the Canadian Pacific's miniature train at Trans-Island, the C.P.R.'s exhibit at the Sesquicentennial Exposition in Philadelphia. The Admiral thoroughly enjoyed the ten-minute "transatlantic" journey from Quebec to Vancouver.

In an effort to increase the number of ducks and muskrats in the northern part of the Province of Manitoba, by providing additional assistance to the Province, the Department of Agriculture has sent north sacks of wild rice to be sown by farmers in the vast areas of land known as "Moose" Creek. This constitutes an area 20 miles wide and 80 miles long, and is the largest area in the Province where harpooning on the continent.

An attempt is being made by the Canadian railroad companies to have the construction of baggage receipts completed in order to facilitate the handling of the traffic between representatives of the railroad companies and Canadian baggage agents. The work is now being done by W. B. Allison, general baggage agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who it was decided would be given minimum specifications for baggage construction should be adopted.

Reports of recklessness on the part of motorists continue to be received at the headquarters of the Canadian Safety Council. In the majority of cases the accidents are reported to be the result of negligence on the part of the car owners. Two accidents at public crossings were reported recently; one near Wingham, where a Ford coupe was struck by a truck which was proceeding slowly over a crossing. The second accident occurred when a truck was driven in front of a C.P.R. train which was passing over the crossing at three miles an hour. In each case crossings and vehicles were at fault.

The Canadian Safety Council, W. A. will be holding its annual sale of work, in the Gleichen Community Hall. This will be a good opportunity to buy Xmas presents.

A good many of us sit down and try to think of some way of getting money. We don't try to think of the best way of earning money.

HARVEST AND THANKSGIVING

Canada has had no actual famine within the memory of living man, and so does not really know how to be thankful enough for the blessings of the harvest. When the earliest English settler in what they fondly called New England, had to guard by night and day the fields which they with amazing difficulty hewed out of the bush and planted with corn and potatoes, a watchful, intrepid, cruel enemy ever waiting a chance to ravish the poor little farms and murder all in their block-houses, they had a good reason for thankfulness for harvest safely garnered. They knew the value of every cob of corn, of every pall of potatoes. They calculated their value in terms of human life. Life or starvation were represented by their paltry harvesting. On one side the unbroken bush extending for hundreds of miles, tenanted by fierce enemies they had not known how to placate, irritated against them by a hostile European nation settled at the north. On the other side was a tempestuous ocean considered impassable in the winter, separated from their old home country by many weeks of voyaging in the summer time. They lived or died according to whether they harvested crops in the open season. These were the people who originated the Harvest Thanksgiving idea. Religion was real to them. They soved in prayerful hope. They tended their crops with faith and courage derived from Christian faith. They received their year's food as in answer to faith, hope, work and prayer. They set apart a day for going to God's house and formally and deliberately thanking him for their harvest.

YOUTH AND ADVERTISING

Fifty years ago boys and girls were adept at weaving rag knots, knitting dolls, carding wool, spinning homespun and stretching carpets. Today boys and girls know the entire abc of the automobile, the electric house, how to use a typewriter, how to drive a car, etc. But the youth of today knows little of what constituted the store of knowledge of the youth of yesterday. The omniscience of youth in every area is amazing, but that of today would be inexplicable but for one thing more than all others. That is advertising. In the newsboys' magazines and newspapers are finding more and more house advertisements, with instruction and instruction. The value of this incidentally acquired knowledge can not be measured in classroom hours. The youth of the continent are finding that advertising pays it.

Psychologists have expounded the theory that truths are most easily observed first by the adolescent. In the case of advertising it must be admitted that there are some of mature age who have not yet learned the value of advertising. Advertisers do not buy newspaper space for the edification of the public, either juvenile or adult, but they recognize the children of today are not only a potent factor in the business of tomorrow but the deciding factors in the business of tomorrow.

Talk about the great war and its casualty list of killed and disabled. It wasn't in for a moment with the death and destruction of the motor car. From every part of the country comes the daily casualty list—41 one is almost loth to take up the newspaper. A distressing feature of the situation is the fact that not only able-bodied men and women are killed and maimed in the automobile. There seems no remedy for the terrible situation, little or no regard being paid to precautionary measures. It is a case of "familiarity breeds contempt." Everyone has a machine and to be in the swim you must go on with it—hang the risk.

Some twenty-five years ago John D. Rockefeller had a million dollars for a new stomach. He was a chronic dyspeptic. He didn't get the stomach but he did get the advice of a good physician who was sensible enough to take it. He is eighty-seven years of age. So bad for a man who for years had little pleasure in life is the doctor's prescription prepared for Mr. Rockefeller. The first thing on the list of things you must not do in order to reach it, is to have got to cut up tobacco, tea, coffee, and the countless little luxuries of the palate such as mother used to make and your talented daughter insists on inflicting upon you and turn to milk, much milk. Water, much water, fruits and vegetables with a careful avoidance of much meat. The man will live in the open air as much as possible. All of which appear to be getting back pretty close to nature which after all is the best and surest physician if we could only be prevailed upon to follow her dictates.

If one borrows money it is better to be a nation than an individual. A nation is given more time in which to pay.
